A Note From the Artistic Director

These kids are so noisy! They come into rehearsal, screaming when they enter, jumping into each other's arms, teaching each other obnoxious, loud games, and singing at the top of their lungs.

It is so loud!

It is so wonderful!

After thirty years working with youth, I have to admit that, when they start this cacophony, my first instinct is to MAKE IT STOP, I open my mouth to tell them to be quiet - rehearsal is about to start. Then I stop myself. I think back to last summer, when we had just come back in-person and it was SO QUIET! Kids entered the rehearsal space one by one, eyes on the floor, standing alone and waiting for things to begin like we were all in the Zoom waiting room. I decide to let them scream.

This whole rehearsal has been about the joy in the scream for me. Directing Matilda is a challenge. I've always been conflicted about Roald Dahl. His stories are populated by insane adults who create unjust worlds where kids are forced to find a way to fight adversity with no weapons. The circumstances can be extreme, cruel, and unimaginable. It makes me want to scream. Even the heroes are flawed.

But I have to say, it's been great to walk down this road, emerging from a pandemic, with Matilda as a guide. She looks inside herself to find her own resources, and it turns out, she is limitless. She sees hopelessness around her and she is fearless. She is terribly alone in her world, but she rallies everyone around her to go to battle like they are fighting a giant!

Matilda is magic. Her magic is in her confidence, audacity, creative thinking, sense of fairness, and her anger. She reminds us that, individually, we are small, but together we are mighty. I have found this story cathartic and inspiring in these times. Judging from the joyful scream emanating from this noisy group of actors, I think they have too. Now it's your turn to experience Matilda's magic, and all of these "revolting children!"

Enjoy!

Synopsis

Rebellion is nigh in Matilda JR., a gleefully witty ode to the anarchy of childhood and the power of imagination! This story of a girl who dreams of a better life and the children she inspires will have audiences rooting for the “revolting children” who are out to teach the grown-ups a lesson.

Matilda has astonishing wit, intelligence...and special powers! She’s unloved by her cruel parents but impresses her schoolteacher, the highly loveable Miss Honey. Matilda’s school life isn’t completely smooth sailing, however—the school’s mean headmistress, Miss Trunchbull, hates children and just loves thinking up new punishments for those who don’t abide by her rules. But Matilda has courage and cleverness in equal amounts, and could be the school pupils’ saving grace!

HI-LINERS VISION:

To be the preeminent youth theater organization in South King County delivering high quality live musical theatre to our audiences.

HI-LINERS MISSION:

*To preserve and advance the performing arts in the lives of the students in our community.
To involve young people in the performing arts in order to produce higher levels of achievement and life awareness.
To achieve these goals while maintaining a reasonable cost structure for both our performers and our audiences.
The Hi-Liners and our volunteers are dedicated to that end.*
